

How to Navigate AMA's Web Site, www.modelaircraft.org

- Click on the AMA logo on the top left side of any page to return to the home page.
- Click on the "Sign In" button to log in to the Web site, to reset your password, or to register a new Web account.
- To look for information on the entire Web site, type the subject you want to find in the empty space and click the "Search" button. The top search results will be shown.
- The shopping cart icon is displayed at the top right. It will tell you how many items you currently have in your cart. Click on the cart to view its contents, click any of the links on the left to go to our online shop, or use the online store search function.

Join/Renew: This is the AMA Membership Application Center. Use this to apply for a new membership, renew a current membership, or try out our three-month-trial membership.

Member Services: Here you will find information about our Park Pilot Program, a link to getting started with the Web site, and links to find a hobby shop near you or a chartered club. You may also go to Clubs, Membership, or Organization by using the menu on the left side of the page.

- Clubs: Here you will find Club Documents, a place to find or list clubs, information on FAA NOTAMs, and the Charter Club Kit.
- Membership: This area has the Membership Applications, a Membership Frequently Asked Questions section, Membership Benefits, AMA Documents, the Membership Manual, Membership Verification, and the AMA Safety Code.
- Organization: You can use this section to see a list of the AMA Headquarters staff and look at the Executive Council Meeting Schedule.

Community: The AMA Community Page is where you

- bimonthly basis for members of the Academy of Model Aeronautics. Its purpose is to create a network of information exchange between the Academy of Model Aeronautics' chartered clubs, AMA officials, and chartered club officers.
- Model Aviation's Sport Aviator is dedicated to helping new RC airplane pilots succeed. Featuring product reviews, piloting tips, and technical how-tos, the online publication is offered by the Academy of Model Aeronautics as a free service, available to everyone with an interest in model aviation.
 - Park Pilot magazine is AMA's newest publication. A quarterly launched in 2008, Park Pilot is the magazine that inspires, informs, and instructs small-field and indoor aviators. It is a benefit of membership in the Park Pilot Program. Open AMA members can add a yearly subscription for $9.95.

Competition/Events: Visit the AMA Contest Calendar, review the Competition Regulations, and read about the AMA Expo. There is a section for Frequently Asked Questions, Contest Board Members, and a menu for the AMA National Aeromodeling Championships (Nats) that includes the schedule and registration information.

Education: Come here to read about our Scholarship Program, download application forms, and learn about AMA's TAG (Take off And Grow) program. This area also includes a list of modeling educators and an information packet for educators.

can read a blog from the AMA president, Dave Mathewson.

Members Only: (You must be a member, be signed in, and have your Web account linked to your Membership to view the material on this page. You can read "getting started with the AMA Web site" under Member Services if you have any questions.) Links in the Members Only area include:

- Model Aviation's Digital Archives
- Update AMA Information
- Annual Financial Statements
- AMA Committees
- Park Pilot Partner Search
- Incident Report Form
- Club Roster
- Introductory Pilot Program Description
- List Instructors
- Register Instructor
- Register Student

About AMA: This section offers Camping Information, Hotel Information, International Aeromodeling Center Site Use, AMA Links, NRHSA Hobby Shops (find a hobby shop in your area), Tradeshows, and information about the annual AMA Expo.

Shop AMA: Browse our online catalog, order plans through our Plans Service, and purchase T-shirts and plaques from Custom Products.

Ask AMA: Ask questions concerning your membership, the AMA Web site, or any general issue. You may contact a member of the staff directly from the personnel directory. Open issues receive immediate attention, and are routed to an expert in that area.

Member Services: This is the same as the Member Services tab at the top of the page.

Publications: This is where you can take a look at all of our different publications, including:

- Model Aviation, the flagship publication of the Academy of Model Aeronautics (AMA). This monthly magazine covers all aspects of the hobby and sport and is provided as a benefit to members of the Academy. It is available by subscription and found in select hobby shops in the US and Canada.
- The AMA Insider is published electronically on a

Museum: This is the link to get to the National Model Aviation Museum. From the museum page, you can read about the History Program, obtain general information about the museum, visit the AMA library section, see some of the exhibits, and go to the Model Aviation Hall of Fame page.

There are a few more links at the bottom of the home page. Several are in other locations on the home page. Additional information includes:

Chartered Club Search: Find an AMA chartered club in your area or in an intended destination. Search by ZIP code, club, name, or by district or state.

Terms of Use: This includes the rules and conditions of our Web site.

Privacy Statement: This is our Privacy Policy and how we use information that you provide to us.

Hobby Shop Search: Use this link to search for a hobby shop in your area or an intended destination. Search by name or state.