Learn about AMA's latest public relations efforts

AMA continues to seek assistance from its members to promote safe and responsible flying, and its efforts to protect model flying from onerous governmental regulations. Your support has helped us increase our work related to these issues, including regular interaction with the media. We have created a report to share a summary of the exposure we have had in the past few months in print and broadcast media.

Charging your LiPos

The saying "with great power comes great responsibility" would be a fitting description when describing LiPo batteries. Understanding the basics of this battery technology and having a working understanding of your charger will go a long way. In the September issue of Model Aviation, we demystify the various charging methods and rates. Read excerpts from the article and watch a video.

Your vote counts-vote for your AMA district vice president

AMA's annual bill and ballot mailing is this month. It is time to elect vice presidents in districts two, four, six, eight, and ten. If you receive the piece with your renewal notice, please make sure to vote and return your ballot to select your district representative. Ballots must be postmarked by November 6. Members' votes decide who will lead the AMA as it continues to represent the aeromodeling community. Thank you for supporting the AMA's continued work with your membership renewal, your votes, and your generous donations!

National Model Aviation Day update

Congratulations to the model aviation community for hosting hundreds of events throughout the country to promote the hobby! We have received donations from 40 clubs, totaling over $30,000 for various charities. As a reminder, please send your donations to the AMA Foundation as soon as possible. All donations to Wounded Warrior Project should be made out to that group and sent to AMA Headquarters. If your club selected another charity, please let us know so that we can record our total contribution. Check out the website and our event Facebook page for more information.
