

The AMA History Project Presents: Biography of AIMEE (OLSON) BAGLEY

Written by AMA staff (01/1988); Transcribed by JS (05/08), Reformatted by JS (11/09)

The following was published in the January 1988 issue of Model Aviation magazine. Aimee was a 1987 Sig Memorial Scholarship winner. (Aimee Bagley's maiden name is Olson.)

Aimee Olson, from Fargo, North Dakota, is attending State University in her hometown. Her major will be directed toward Wellness and Physical Fitness. A keen student of ballet, jazz, and tap dancing, Aimee has performed with the Red River Dance Company for several years. An accomplished and trained model, she has worked professionally for various facilities in Fargo and environs.

As a student in high school, Aimee enjoys competitive sports including volleyball and basketball. Her major model aviation interests were Slow and Fast Combat, and she won many awards at local and state contests. She was a Nats contestant in Reno (1984) and Chicopee (1985). In all, she has built and flown more than fifty models.

A licensed amateur radio operator, she is a member of the American Radio Relay League.
