

The AMA History Project Presents: Biography of DICK EVERETT

Compiled and formatted by JS (02/2016)

The following information was culled from an article in the March 1952 issue of Air Trails and biographical material submitted to the Model Aviation Hall of Fame by J. R. Scarborough in 1986. Mr. Everett was a 1986 Model Aviation Hall of Fame inductee.

- In the early 1930s, Dick started building model aircraft and began participating in contests. Gliders were his favorite models.
- He joined NACA in 1939, working in -and served as foreman at - the Prop Shop at Langley Field, Virginia, preparing high-speed, multi-blade propellers for wind tunnel testing. Later, he worked under Dr. Robert Gilruth in the Pilotless Aircraft Research Division.
- Around this time, he served as Contest Director for the Brainbusters of Virginia.
- His top designs were El Lobo (a hand-launched glider) and El Sobo (a towline glider). He also designed rubber-powered models.
- In 1948, he moved to California and worked for Convair in San Diego. He was also a member of the San Diego Airliners club.
- He competed in contests in California and surrounding states, and served as the Nats Contest Director in 1952 at the Los Alamitos Naval Air Station.
- He also directed the World Wide U. S. Air Force Model Championships, held at Travis Air Force Base in 1955.
- Dick has set several national records.
- He wrote for Air Trails magazine from 1952 to 1963 as their west coast columnist.
- He published many other articles in Model Builder, Flying Models, and Model Aviation magazines through the mid-1980s. (He passed away in 1985.)
- He was inducted into the Model Aviation Hall of Fame in 1986.

*The notes on the back of the print original of this photo states: “Dick Everett (seated) shows method of mounting motor to “Nacanauts” of Hampton, Va” and “DICK EVERETT, seated at worktable, leads group of Virginia Model Association members who were also among the initial modelers hired by the National Advisory Committee for Aeronautics (N.A.C.A) at Langley Field, Va., in 1940.
[Photo print from #0015 AMA Model Aviation Hall of Fame Collection, National Model Aviation Museum]*

This PDF is property of the Academy of Model Aeronautics. Permission must be granted by the AMA History Project for any reprint or duplication for public use.

AMA History Project
National Model Aviation Museum
5151 E. Memorial Dr.
Muncie IN 47302
(765) 287-1256, ext. 511
historyproject@modelaircraft.org

