Soaring

The second and final day of the RES and Nostalgia classes brought the same cool morning temperatures as the previous day, but light winds and clear skies. Free Flight competitors were getting an early start in the good conditions as the Round 5 Group A Nostalgia pilots gathered to get the first round of the day airborne.

For the first hour, thermal activity was light, but there was enough lift to sustain the 10-minute task time—providing you were in the right place. As the day warmed and the thermals strengthened, some groups got caught in sink cycles, producing short flights for the unwary.

Jim McCarthy ran a tight ship and an additional five rounds of each class were completed. It was clear early that Mike Lachowski was on his game and he flew strongly all day to win both classes by a comfortable margin.

Peter Goldsmith made good landings all day to move up the RES leaderboard and finish second. Jerry Shape, Craig Greening, and Jeff Carr rounded out the top five. In Nostalgia, Ed Wilson, Norm Poti, Ken Bates, and Peter Goldsmith took places two through five behind Mike Lachowski.

Wednesday is the beginning of the Unlimited event, which will run for two days. More than 80 entrants are expected in what is sure to be a close competition, where landing scores will have a larger influence on placing. The weather forecast is showing perfect conditions, but look for the mid-afternoon sink cycles to add a little mayhem to the proceedings.

Bud Romak (CA) starting the day's work in Mulvihill, was good for second.

What a difference a day makes! By all accounts, Tuesday was one of the best flying days for Free Flight in Muncie Nats history. We had just gorgeous weather. Temperatures never got past the mid-70s and the winds never over a few knots. Even with winds coming directly out of the west, some flights of over 5 minutes were landing on the field. At least three national records were torched. Tuesday will be long remembered.

They had a good time in Mulvihill and drew 23 fliers, making it the largest field of the day. The conditions allowed high scores to be cranked up with the drift being minimal and retrievals easy. John Shailor (MI) reprised his previous victories with another win with 2299 seconds, but it was a narrow one this time. Bud Romak (CA) was not far behind with 2285 seconds.

Some serious drama played out in the Senior category. Robert Marier (GA) scored 2100 seconds to take that division, breaking the national record. And he made another flight before sundown and added another five minutes to the tally.

The other rubber event drew a decent field, and Ed Sneed (OH) won by a good margin with his Korda Dethermalizer. The light breezes made these mandatory rise-off-ground (ROG) launches much easier than Monday's conditions did for Moffett.

Old-Time Catapult Glider was the day's glider event, and it drew a good field of 19. Perennial frontrunner, Ralph Ray (CA), eked out a narrow win of 339 seconds over his friend Tim Batiuk (CA) with 337 seconds. Young Larson Ringlien (MN) scored sixth, beating his father, Andy, by 12 seconds. Well done, Larson!

The gas guys had a big day. Dick Covalt (IN) posted a very high score of 1124 seconds in B Gas, well ahead of Gerald Brown's (TX) 1028 seconds. The field in B NosGas was a large one with 18 fliers. It was a busy and long day for these guys. Before it was over, Denny Dock (MI) topped an expert field of eight with 821 seconds.

The most exciting results came from CD Classic Gas. Early in afternoon, Ronnie Thompson (AL) was leading and set a new national record. It didn't stand long because he was chased by Brad Bane (NY). Eventually, the record was upped by roughly 10 minutes. Brad was on top in the end with a score of 2222 seconds—a huge number. (That's a lot of two-minute flights!)

Further accolades waited. Dan Berry (AR) got busy in the rise-off-water (ROW) pond, broke the A Gas ROW record and won with 573 seconds. He was very proud of himself. Hank Sperzel (NE) ran away with One Design Combo with 946 seconds, almost 600 seconds ahead of second place.

The FAI events began in earnest. Steve Spence (TX) won F1A with 1653 seconds, approximately 30 seconds ahead of Andy Barron (CT). Bob Sifleet (PA) took F1H, more than 1 minute ahead of Lee Hines (CA).

F1Q drew the largest field, and Bob Gewain (CA) topped 13 fliers to win with 1260 seconds. The performance level of the modern F1Q is just amazing. Vertical climbs followed by angelic glides, and it's really something to watch.

The Jetex event drew its usual group of devotees. Amid much smoke, many sparks, and more than a little swearing, Chris Matsuno (MO) edged Bill Schlarb (IN) for the win.

Wednesday promises a lot of excitement, and Don DeLoach will be the NatsNews reporter for today and tomorrow. We'll split the duties on Friday. Winds are thought to be out of the east and not much windier than yesterday. We shall see.

The Flying Aces events will start today, so expect a lot of good photography. The largest field of the week will probably be today's Catapult Glider. Today's Wakefield and F1J offer a lot of good visual and drama in the flyoffs. I'm looking forward to E-36, which promises a huge field and exhilarating performance aplenty. Have fun, y'all!
